Ocean County Library Adds New Technology to Enhance Patron Services

TOMS RIVER – The Ocean County Library is initiating a system that will allow for quicker, more efficient customer service than ever before. Lending items are being adapted to Radio Frequency Identification (RFID).

Toms River Headquarters Branch will begin the RFID project on Wednesday, March 17. This project will continue throughout the system.

During RFID tagging, some sections of the library may be unavailable for browsing. Materials in these sections are still available upon request.

Keep up with the latest Library news and events at www.theoceancountylibrary.org.
