Creative Photography* by Rob Rielly at Ocean County Library Toms River Branch in May

TOMS RIVER – The Ocean County Library is pleased to host Creative Photography, by Rob Rielly, throughout May in the 2nd Floor Gallery of the Toms River Branch during May.

It consists of traditional and digital photographs, created through a variety of techniques and methods. It is Rob's contention that photography can take two forms: Reactive, and pro-active.

"Reactive photography takes place when the photographer sees something interesting and reacts by taking an image with a camera," he explained. "Pro-active photography is a product of the photographer's mind, the photographer imagines something and seeks to create the image."

Rob's creativity has been displayed in numerous galleries in the tri-state area, including New York City's SoHo district; Ocean County College, Toms River; Red Bank, Belmar, and Shrewsbury, New Jersey; and Eagle and Doylestown, Pennsylvania.

Creative Photography is free and open to the public. The Toms River Branch is at 101 Washington Street.
