Ocean County Library Announces Reopening of Point Pleasant Borough Branch

POINT PLEASANT BOROUGH – The Ocean County Library plans to reopen the Point Pleasant Borough Branch on Monday, April 13, 2026, following a temporary closure that began in January after water damage was discovered in several areas of the building.

Repairs and improvements were completed to restore and enhance the branch. The work focused on correcting the damage while also refreshing interior spaces and improving lighting, climate control, and overall functionality.

Ocean County Library thanks the community for its patience and looks forward to welcoming customers back to the Point Pleasant Borough Branch.
